About Us

Psychiatric News, the print and electronic news service of the American Psychiatric Association, provides primary and authoritative information for APA members, other physicians and mental health professionals, and the public about developments in the field of psychiatry that impact clinical care and professional practice.

It accomplishes these goals by providing important clinical and research news across the field of psychiatry and the biobehavioral sciences; providing information about mental health issues with a particular focus on news that affects the profession of psychiatry and the delivery of quality care to patients; providing information on APA's policies, programs, and actions across the spectrum of APA's activities including areas such as advocacy, education, ethics, minority interests, and clinical guidelines; and serving as a forum for the exchange of a full range of ideas and opinions among members, thus assisting in creating a sense of community.

The print edition is mailed on the first and third Fridays of each month. For the web edition, articles are posted on a breaking-news basis and collected into issues on the first and third Fridays of each month. The Psychiatric News Alert covers breaking clinical and research news daily, and the Psychiatric News Update is emailed once a week to all APA members.
